Thinking Right

The arrogance of Royalty or Narcissistic Self-Worship?

The United States of America did not crown a King in January of this year, they did however, elect a President. His job description is to be the administrator, the chief-executive of this great Constitutional Republic, not someone who tries to remake the US into a different form of government than is called for in our Constitution. The President's constitutional mandate is to execute the provisions of the legislation passed by the Congress, not to change our way of life and have Congress validate his decisions after-the-fact. Barack Hussein Obama has made many unilateral decisions for what he calls the 'Common Good,' beyond the will and against the force of public opinion. His decisions to emasculate the Military by denying funding for continued weapons research and developments that our antagonists would greatly love to deploy against us will weaken our Military presence throughout the world. He forced

Trials Have A Purpose

Everybody is either in a trial now or the Universal healthcare Reform Bill through Congress, a bill whose true cost is now filtering out into the public arena, increasing the anger and resistance of the public. He desires to implement amnesty for illegal immigrants, and finally to scuttle the economy by seeking the power to take over any financial institution under the Banking Reform Bill now being considered in the Senate.

Illegal immigration is out of control, the Fed's won't even build the fence to protect our borders, even though the funds to do so have already been allocated. Why? Because these illegals will soon be granted amnesty by the Administration. Last week Arizona's Legislature passed, and the Governor signed into law, a statute that among other things, gave every law enforcement officer in Arizona the right to apprehend, incarcerate and legally deport illegal immigrants from the US to their country of origin. This is the same arrest powers given to Federal Officers, and the Obama Administration is furiously denouncing Arizona for daring to enforce Federal Law! Other States are considering Legislation that gives them the same powers. Mr. Obama publically castigated the State of Arizona and its leaders for this move, calling it, among other things, divisive and un-American. A new Rasmussen Reports telephone survey finds that 60% of voters nationwide favor such a law, while 31% are opposed. Seventy-seven percent (77%) of Republicans support the law along with 62% of voters not affiliated with either major party. Democratic voters are evenly divided on the measure; a bill Mr. Obama calls divisive really only divides Democrats.

All Americans, especially our Federal Government Officials should remember our nation is known as the United States of America, and the Individual States are the basic unit of Government, with the Federal Powers limited by the Constitution in their scope. We must be careful of constant Federal attempts at encroachment on the jurisdictions of the States and imposing overriding control. Now is the time to restrict the power of the Fed's and restore the careful balance created by the Founding Fathers in our Constitution.

Thank You

DEAR GOD:

I want to thank You for what you have already done.

I am not going to wait until I see results or receive rewards; I am thanking you right now.

I am not going to wait until I feel better or things look better; I am thanking you right now.

I am not going to wait until people say they are sorry or until they stop talking about me;

I am thanking you right now.

I am not going to wait until the pain in my body disappears;

I am thanking you right now.

I am not going to wait until my financial situation improves;

I am going to thank you right now.

I am not going to wait until the children are asleep and the house is quiet;

I am going to thank you right now.

I am not going to wait until I get promoted at work or until I get the job;

I am going to thank you right now.

I am not going to wait until I understand every experience in my life that has caused me pain or grief;

I am thanking you right now.

I am not going to wait until the journey gets easier or the challenges are removed;

I am thanking you right now.

I am thanking you because I am alive.

I am thanking you because I made it through the day's difficulties.

I am thanking you because I have walked around the obstacles.

I am thanking you because I have the ability and the opportunity to do more and do better.

I'm thanking you because FATHER, YOU haven't given up on me.

News Update.....

Our liberties at stake with next Supreme Court pick

by Carrie Severino, Chief Counsel, Judicial Crisis Network

Where will our liberties be thirty years from now? President Obama is on the verge of nominating a new Supreme Court justice who will have a lot to say about that. From racial preferences and abortion to property rights and terrorism, retiring Justice Stevens and his three decades of liberal activism did tremendous damage to the Constitution. His replacement has the potential to either build upon or roll back Steven's "legacy." Remember, Supreme Court justices sit for life (Stevens stayed on until he was ninety) and new issues are coming before the Court all the time, from bailouts and buyouts to health care reform. While each justice only gets one vote, one vote is all it takes on many of the most important issues of our day.. Continue reading HERE

Liberals and the Violence Card

by Rush Limbaugh

The latest liberal meme is to equate skepticism of the Obama administration with a tendency toward violence. That takes me back 15 years ago to the time President Bill Clinton accused "loud and angry voices" on the airwaves (i.e., radio talk-show hosts like me) of having incited Oklahoma City bomber Timothy McVeigh. What self-serving nonsense. Liberals are perfectly comfortable with antigovernment protest when they're not in power. Continue reading
